

Hamlet quotation practice grid.

3. 'Why then 'tis none to you, for there is nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so. To me it is a prison.' II ii.

1. What is happening at this point in the play?	2. Who is Hamlet replying to here, and what is the statement he is responding to?	3. What is the 'prison'? And why is it one?
4. What is the nature of the relationship between Hamlet and Rosencrantz & Guildenstern at this point in the play?	5. (from 4). How does this relationship change later on?	6. Complete this quotation immediately after this moment: 'O God, I could be bounded ...??' What does this show?
7. Give an example of how 'thinking' makes something 'good or bad' for Hamlet.	8. In what ways is Hamlet 'imprisoned' in the play. Does he free himself?	