

Hamlet quotation practice grid.

6. “Thus conscience does make cowards of us all, / And thus the native hue of resolution / Is sicklied o’er with the pale cast of thought.” III i

1. What is happening at this point of the play?	2. Explain in your own words ‘the native hue of resolution.’	3. How does ‘the pale cast of thought’ affect this?
4. What happens immediately after this speech?	5. Write down another quotation from this speech (other than the first line or the one in 6).	6. Complete this quotation which immediately follows: “And enterprises of great pitch and moment, / With this regard their currents turn awry, / And ???”
7. Write down three adjectives which describe Hamlet’s state of mind in this speech.	8. What other examples are there in the play of the relationship between thought and action?	